PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

The

residence of Mr. Paul Gault, this city, was the scene of a very pretty home wedding last Tuesday morning. Those most interested in the happy event were Miss Maude Coyle, a niece of Mr.

Gault, and Mr. Charles Curry, of Greenup, Ky.

At a few minutes past nine o'clock these two entered the cozy parlor and stood before the Rev. O. F. Williams, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, and, as the strains of the wedding march died upon the summer air, he impressively pronounced the fateful words which made the twain man and wife. The guests, made up of a few relatives and personal friends, tendered their hearty congratulations and sincere good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Curry, and then, with many a good-by and some tears, the couple set out upon a brief wedding tour. This trip as originally projected embraced a trip to Eastern cities and, of course, the Jamestown Exposition. But man proposes and sometimes Providence wills otherwise. Recent bereavement in form of the death of the grandmother and an uncle of the bride had changed many plans. Instead of the extended journey

Mr. and Mrs. Curry will visit

Cincinnati and her mother's home in Williamsburg, O., and go to Central Kentucky for a brief stay, then to Beckley, W.

Va., which will be their home.

Much of Mrs. Curry's girlhood time was spent in this city, where she had won many friends by her charm of person and disposition.

Always attractive, she looked pretty on her wedding morn.

Dressed in a beautiful suit of champagne voile over champagne silk, with all the appropriate accessories of the bridal toilette, she made a very handsome picture.

Mr. Curry is a fine-looking young business man, of excellent family and character. He is a traveling salesman for one of Huntington's big houses, that of the Watts-Kitter Company, and enjoys the esteem and confidence of his employers and of all who know him. He is to be congratulated upon the winning of a fair bride, and the New couple for both long life and happiness.

Thos. Coyle and his wife, who is A MISSOURI STORY.—Here is a fabulous story from the "show me" country, related by Henry Miller, who in "The Great Divide" has made one of the season's big successes:

Once upon a time a young man had commenced to navigate the sea of matrimony with his father and said: "Father, who should be boss, I or my wife?"

Then the old man smiled and said:

"Here are 100 chickens and a team of horses. Hitch up the horses, load the chickens into the wagon and wherever you can find a man and his wife dwelling stop and make inquiry as to who is the boss. Wherever you find a woman running things leave chicken. If you come to a place where the man is in control, get him one of the horses."

After seventy-nine chicks had been disposed of, he came to a house and made the usual inquiry:

"I'm the boss of this place," said the man.

"Got to show me."

"So the wife was called a stupid woman and she said:

Chicago, June 28.—The subpoena of United States of America that will bring John D. Rockefeller, head of the Standard Oil Co. in the world-famous case, to Chicago, was issued

It commands in the name of the government, that the richest man in the world shall come here and testify before Judge Landis, of the federal court, upon July 6.

The summons of the government is one that even Rockefeller must obey.
So long as powerful, he has now, as he nears the sunset of his career, found a power that is his master. The power is the national government, as represented by a wiry, white-haired little judge, who has given every indication of being in dead earnest—Kavanaugh M. Landis.

Rockefeller does not come willingly, but he will be brought. An order to a United States marshal to "attach the body of him, the said John D. Rockefeller, and bring it, the said body, before the said district court," will be the further proceedings if the oil king does not appear upon the date named.

With an attachment United States marshals will be empowered to patten in the doors of the trust magnate's home and take him prisoner. They will have authority to bring him to Chicago unopposed, and it will be in Judge Landis' power to at once commit him to jail for contempt.

The subpoena for Rockefeller was issued and was forwarded to New York. It will be served if he remains in Manhattan or is still playing golf upon his private links in Westchester county.

It may be that Rockefeller will try to evade service. He has done such a thing here before. Word was received from New York that he could not be found there and that he might have fled for Cleveland, O., where his land and power are.

As to the question John D. will testify, the stock of the Standard Oil Co. in Indiana while it was in the hands of the Standard Oil Co. was "earnings and dividends during the period?"

TALES REGARDING COMMISSION

ARE NOT TRUE, DECLARES SEC RETARY TAFT.

He Says No Immediate Change is Contemplated in the Administration of Affairs.

Washington, June 28.—"It is a thousand times false," said Secretary Taft, when his attention was called to the report of his disaffection of the management of affairs under the Isthmian canal commission and of the intention of the officers engaged in the work to resign and return to the United States. The secretary was emphatic in declaration that he had not received a single communication from Lieut. Col. Goethals showing that in any way he was dissatisfied or desired to end his connection with the work.

"No immediate change is contemplated in the administration of affairs on the Isthmus," continued the secretary, "and there has not been a single kick of any sort. There is no truth in the stories of army officers asking for leaves of absence to return to the United States."

Continuing, the secretary said: "The work there appears to be progressing fairly. It is true that in a recent month the excavations made under Col. Goethals were 150,000 cubic yards less than under his predecessor, but this was due to a strike, and to other causes beyond his control. Col. Goethals will have all the help in the way of army officers he may need with a view to the thoroughness of the work in hand."

"What about David W. Ross, the retiring general distributing agent?" was asked the secretary.

"Mr. Ross' resignation was not asked for," replied the secretary. "His work has been satisfactory, and he was one of the most efficient officers we ever had. Because of his private business Mr. Ross wanted to leave the commission on the 1st of June, but I wanted him to stay at least until the 15th of July."

Secretary Taft declared that the resignation of Engineer Ripley was voluntarily. "He and Col. Goethals did not agree as to the character of some work, and Mr. Ripley retired. He had been engaged in the designing of some locks. Now has General Manager Bird, of the Panama railroad, resigned, as has been reported. Mr. Bird is one of the most useful men we have on the Isthmus, being at the head of all the transportation work we have there."

"If Jackson Smith, the disinclination who has charge of all the labor on the Isthmus has resigned," continued the secretary, "I don't know it. There is no truth, so far as I know, in the reports of his resignation, and I think I would know it."

"As to Mr. Bishop, secretary of the commission, who is now on duty at Washington, I am not prepared to say what his future assignments will be," said Secretary Taft. "That will be determined next week."

STARTLING EXPOSURES

EXPECTED OF FRIEDMAN WHEN PLACED ON WITNESS STAND.

PLOTS AND COUNTER PLOTS

By Detectives and Officials of State Crash Federation Will Be Claimed in the Defense of Haywood.

Bolton, Ida, July 1.—The alleged conspiracy of the Pinkerton National Detective agency, under retainer from the Mine Owners' association and the Chicago Alliance of Colorado and Idaho to destroy the Western Federation of Miners, will be taken up when the trial of William D. Haywood is begun. The defense sets up this as the counter conspiracy of which Harry Orchard, it is charged, was simply an agent. The chief witness is one Morris Friedman, formerly a stenographer for the Pinkertons at the headquarters of the western division in Denver.

It is alleged that Friedman was an agent of the socialists and the Western Federation, secured the position in the Pinkerton employ, for the purpose of spying on the Pinkertons. Some of the daily reports of the "operators" employed by the agency to join the Western Federation and attend meetings of the local unions, and, if possible, secure their own election to office in these unions, Friedman had testified, were given him to copy. He made a copy for himself, and now produces a number of these reports, which have been marked for identification as evidence, but which have not been read in court. In fact, Clarence Darrow, of counsel for the defense, stated to Judge Wood that he himself had not read these reports. The admissibility of these copies of reports as evidence will be argued.

By the introduction of witness Friedman on the last day of the first week of the issue of the defense a more positive light is thrown upon the position taken by the attorneys who are endeavoring to clear Haywood and the other officials of the Western Federation of Miners from the charge of conspiracy to murder. It is clearly indicated that it is proposed to show that a conspiracy to exterminate the Western Federation went so far as to secure the indictment of the highest officials of the federation on the charge of murder.

It is charged that when Orchard was arrested on the charge of the murder of former Gov. Steunenberg, he was induced by the Pinkertons to make a confession implicating Haywood, Moyer, Pettibone, Steve Adams, Jack Shupinski and a number of other officers and members of the Western Federation, to such an extent that indicments could be secured against them in Idaho. In furtherance of the mine owners' conspiracy, it is charged that further incriminating evidence was manufactured by the Pinkertons in support of Orchard's confession, so that Haywood, the secretary and treasurer of the Western Federation; Moyer, the president of the organization; and Pettibone, a former member of the executive board, might be convicted of a capital offense and executed, with many other officers and members of the federation were placed in jeopardy of trial on similar charges of conspiracy.

The hotel took its name from Dwyer place from Dr. Noah Smith. It was
